MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

This matter comes before the Court on the Parties' Joint Motion for Entry of Protective Order [doc. #33].

The Parties have submitted to the Court their proposed protective order. While the Parties were able to agree on most of the terms of the proposed protective order, they were unable to reach an agreement regarding the procedure for disclosure of information to experts. The Parties have thus provided two different versions of the proposed protective order, one containing additional terms requested by Defendant Catalina Marketing Corporation (Tab A¹), and the other excluding such terms (Tab B). The Parties have requested that the Court determine which proposed protective order should apply in this case. The Court has reviewed the two proposed protective orders and has concluded that the version with additional terms (Tab A) will be adopted. These additional terms will eliminate the possibility that someone who is not actually an expert might be able to obtain access to confidential documents.

Accordingly,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Parties' Joint Motion for Entry of Protective Order [doc. #33] is GRANTED. The Court will adopt the version of the Protective Order with additional terms (Tab A).

Dated this 3rd Day of September, 2009.
